

THE DECISIVE SOLUTION FOR AIDS

Rasulullah ﷺ has stated, “Never does fornication become widespread in a community except that such diseases and sicknesses will befall them that were not existent in the people before.” (Ibn Majah)

Fornication and adultery are amongst the most evil of sins. Those who commit this vice find their lives beset with numerous hardships and calamities. From these calamities are the various STDs (Sexually Transmitted Diseases) prevalent today, with AIDS being the most prominent among them.

The disease of AIDS is synonymous with the disobedience of Allah. In the overwhelming majority of cases, it is transmitted via Haraam intercourse.

With the AIDS conference taking place, many “experts” will give their view on eradicating AIDS. There is, however, no better solution than the Islamic solution. Ban the immoral content and pornography that has created a sex-crazed society. Promote and give sanctity to the importance of marriage and prohibit all sexual contact out of wedlock.

“Prevention is better than cure” is a universally accepted principle. There is no greater prevention from AIDS than abstaining from sex out of wedlock. This will not only immediately stop the spread of AIDS, but it will also remedy the rapid degeneration of society that besets us today.
